How did you hear about The Mountain School?

The Mountain School is a non sectarian school for children of ages 4-12. It admits students of any race, color, religion, ethnic or national origin to all rights, privileges, programs and activities offered to students of the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, administrative policies, scholarship and loan programs and other school administered programs. In addition, The Mountain School offers a tuition assistance program for families who can demonstrate reasonable need for financial assistance. The school admits students with varying physical, emotional and intellectual abilities who can be reasonably accommodated consistent with the school's educational goals, pedagogy and resources, as well as with the social integration of the class. Admission at any level is based on space availability, the student's age, and an assessment that addresses the student's needs on several levels including physical emotional and intellectual development. If a student has been previously enrolled in another school, a consultation with the previous teacher and school records will be considered in the admissions process.

Obligations of enrolled families-Parents should be in agreement with and supportive of the school's philosophy and should be willing to attend the parent/teacher conferences, parent evenings, class meetings and some of the adult education offerings in order to deepen their understanding of Waldorf education. Parents must be willing to support the teachers' work as well as a healthy integration between home and school life by being attentive to the following areas at home: a regular and rhythmic schedule, adequate sleep and nutrition, and limited exposure to electronic media. In addition, the school depends upon the families who are enrolled to volunteer their collective talents to maintain and enhance the health and stability of the school. All parents are expected to familiarize themselves with the many regular and occasional volunteer tasks that are needed throughout the school year.

Media policy-Exposure to TV and other electronic media (regardless of content) inhibits a child's innate capacity to form his or her own "inner pictures", an ability that is crucial for creative thinking and problem solving. In addition, limited exposure to electronic media has been shown to improve the mood of open-minded concentration and social stability in the classroom. The Mountain School therefore encourages families enrolled in the school to restrict or eliminate the use of electronic media in the house.

No Drug Zone: The school has a strict no alcohol and drug use policy that is in effect for any school related events.
